MINERS CLAIM THAT THEIR BALLOTS WERE NOT COUNTED

Charged That Votes Were Stolen in Recent Election

TELLER FEENEY RETURNS

Charleroi Man Who Helped
Tabulate Votes Appeared
Before Committee

Assemblyman William Feeney has returned from Indianapolis, Ind., where he appeared last week before the investigating board of the United Mine Workers appointed to look into the charge made by miners that ballots cast at the recent election of national officers had been stolen. Assemblyman Feeney was a teller and assisted in counting the votes. It was partly his suspicion of wrong doing that resulted in the investigation being ordered. The findings of the committee were that 15,000 ballots were stolen of those cast for the president, a large majority of which were for President John P. White.

The members of the special committee making the investigation were James F. Moran, of Des Moines, Ia., William Diamond of Saginaw, Mich., and George Baker of Kentucky. The hearing was brought at the request of members of 54 local unions of Illinois, whose votes were not counted according to the report of the election issued a short time ago and copies of the tally sheets, which have been circulated in mining circles show the number of votes in the districts, but give no reason why the votes of these districts were not tabulated. President White appointed the committee to make complete inquiry upon receiving the printed reports of the election.

The investigation showed that there were 350 local unions in the State of Illinois and that the votes of 78 of these had been counted. Of this number the votes of 24 local unions had been thrown out by the board of tellers and a reason given for the action. Among the reasons given are casting more votes than there were members in the union, failing to have the votes properly countersigned by the local officers and other similar reasons. No reason can be ascertained why the votes of the remaining 54 unions were not tabulated, it is said. Thomas L. Lewis, ex-national president was asked to appear and testify, but stated after he had received three telegrams, according to Mr. Feeney, that he was unable to appear.

BANQUET TENDERED THE LUTHERAN TEAM

The Lutherans, pennant winners in the Church league were tendered a delightful banquet Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heupel on Lincoln avenue. Baseball decorations were the order of the evening and each player was tastefully remembered, 15 being the number present. Speeches were made by all the players, Coach Joe Mason acting as toastmaster, following which singing and "fanning bees" were in order. The Lutheran boys claim that they had to win the pennant when backed by such loyal friends as Mr. and Mrs. Heupel.

Making Fight for Fountain

W. C. T. U. At Monthly Meeting Discusses Matter

Matters pertaining to a public drinking fountain were discussed by the Women's Christian Temperance Union at their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the Christian church. By combining their efforts with those of the business men and citizens in the borough it is hoped that a fountain can be secured. Mrs. Emma Dawson, president, was in the chair. Various other matters were taken up. A social hour was enjoyed following the meeting, during which time there were temperance songs sung and recitations said. The Misses Sharpneck, of North Charleroi said recitations.

ISSUE IS APPROVED

Monongahela Citizens Vote $85,000 for Improvements

$65,000 FOR THE STREETS

A special election was held in Monongahela Tuesday to determine election of the bonds issue $65,000 worth of bonds. The issue was approved by a majority of 228.

There was considerable opposition to the bonds from the hill district and agitation was lively. Through the election of the bonds proceeds $65,000 goes for the improvement of the streets, $10,000 for a garbage plant, and $10,000 for the building of a municipal building.

The present public building is to go to the borough for a fire department when the new building is completed.

UNION PICNIC TO BE A BIG EVENT

If the weather man is good and Pennywit, of Pittsburg says he will be, one of the biggest Sunday school picnics in years will be held at Eldora Park Thursday. The occasion will be that of the union Sunday school outing in which 15 Sunday schools are interested. Final preparations were completed today.

There will be a sports program for those who care for that and plenty of other amusement. The park management has promised to have the amusements all in the best running order. A certain number of tickets will be given each child for the amusements. Special cars will carry the crowds to the park, leaving Charleroi at 9 and 10 o'clock, and making stops at Fifth street, Sixth street, Ninth street and North Charleroi. Special cars will be run from Dunlevy and Speers.

NEW BURGESS NAMED FOR NORTH CHARLEROI

Jonas M. Gee Resigns and Harry W. Scott is Appointed in His Stead at Petition of Citizens

Upon petition of Burgess Jonas M. Gee of North Charleroi, and the council of the municipality the resignation of Mr. Gee as burgess was accepted Tuesday by the court.

According to the petition filed, Burgess Gee's reason for wishing to resign his office is that he does not feel able to give the office the attention it demands since injured in an accident. Burgess Gee was struck by a street car in Monongahela some months ago, and was so seriously injured that for a time his life was despaired of. In the same paper was the request of the council and other citizens of North Charleroi that Harry W. Scott be appointed to serve out the remaining time of Burgess Gee. Those whose names appear upon the petition are Samuel Gaskill, David Woodward, Tom P. Sloan, Jasper Rockwell, Herman Nebeling and John I. Cook.

COURSE COMMITTEE HOLDS A MEETING

Permanent Organization Effected for the Coming Season

At a meeting of the guarantors of the Citizen's Entertainment Course Tuesday evening a permanent organization was effected for the season by the election of Dr. T. M. Faddis president, J. M. Hill secretary and Stewart McKean treasurer. A report was made that there was a surplus of $160 in the treasury from last year's entertainment course with which to start this season. The president was instructed to name an executive committee from the guarantors to choose a course, and a meeting will be held next week some time.

MANY JUDGES TO BE ELECTED

County Commissioners in Various Counties Notified
to Get Nominations

Formal notice has been issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the counties of the State notifying them of the fact that thirty-five judges of commonpleas and orphans' courts are to be elected at the November election and that twenty-one associate judges are also to be chosen in the counties which retain such officers.

The State authorities have also sent notices to the commissioners of each county that the lists of nominations to be made at the primaries in September must be filed by today. The county chairmen in each county are required to enter such lists.

In every county of the state the lists will be on record and then petitions to be candidates may be filed. Numerous petitions are in circulation in this and other counties and the interest in the primaries at which the largest tickets in years are to be nominated is running high, although the primary will not take place until September 30.

The time for filing petitions to be candidate for nomination for judge expires on September 2, such petitions being filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The time for filing petitions to be candidate for nomination on county or municipal tickets will expire on September 9, the petitions to be filled with commissioners of the county in which candidate desires to run.

Green County Men Purchase Coal Land

S. K. Strosnider, C. K. Spragg and W. H. Spragg all of Waynesburg have closed a deal for the sale of 150 acres of coal land located near Manington, W. Va. The consideration of the deal was $50,000. The property was sold to M. A. Jolliffe, of Fairmont, W. Va. The coal was originally known as the William Wallace tract. Messrs. Strosnider, Spragg and Spragg purchased the coal five years ago at $130 per acre.

THREE FAMILIES TO HOLD REUNION

Grants, Wickerhams and Sampsons to Convene
at Eldora

The fourth annual reunion of the Grant, Sampson and Wickerham families, will be held the third week of August at Eldora park. Arrangements for the affair are now under headway and the reunion this year promises to be the best ever. Last year the reunion was attended by hundreds of members of the clans from all communities and this year a general invitation has been issued. The Grant-Sampson-Wickerham families, which are closely connected are among the oldest and best known in the county of Washington. The families for the last four years have been holding these annual picnics which are always well attended and which are enjoyable.

DR. CRAMBLETT IS A BENEDICT

President of Bethany College, Well Known Here, Married in Illinois

Dr. T. E. Cramblett, president of Bethany College, and Mrs. Grace Evelyn Williams of Kankakee, Ill., were married in Bloomington, Ill., at noon Tuesday in the home of the bride's mother. The bride is a talented musician and for the last two years has been a successful singing evangelist, besides delivering temperance and missionary addresses. She was educated at Eureka College, in Illinois. Dr. and Mrs. Cramblett have gone for a lake trip and will be at home at The Heights, Bethany, after August 15. Dr. Cramblett is well known in Charleroi where he has preached.

OUTING OF CHARLEROI ORDER ATTRACTS MANY TO ROCK POINT PARK

The annual outing of Charleroi Lodge No. 4392, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows was held at Rock Point park Tuesday and there was a crowd of about 600 persons from all along the valley between Brownsville and Pittsburg present. The day was enjoyed at the park in various ways the various amusements being taxed to their capacity. The skating rink was a feature. The return trip was made about 12:30.

Donora Man

J. L. Dainty, whose store at Donora burnt last Saturday evening is reported as missing since Sunday. Mr. Dainty had been separated from his wife and had worried over it and combined with the misfortune of having a fire it is thought had turned his mind.

The missing man had been staying at the home of a brother-in-law since the separation from his wife and was overheard to make the remark to one of the family on Sunday morning that he thought it best to end it all by committing suicide. The general belief is that he has carried out his intentions.

LEAGUE IS A SUCCESS

Church Baseball Organization Has Proved
Good Venture

WHOLESOME AMUSEMENT

One of the most successful and best conducted organizations to provide wholesome amusement and sport, the Charleroi Church Baseball league, is just closing its 1911 season, this being the last week. The church league has run three seasons and has been a far greater success in every way than organized ball ever was here before.

The league was organized in 1909 at a meeting at the First Presbyterian church, representatives being present from six churches, First Presbyterians, Washington Avenue Presbyterians, Lutheran, Methodist, Christian and Episcopal. The Christian team got the jump on all the others by having their lineup ready and Captain Dale Jolliffe's team won seven straight games. They were telling folks what sort of a pennant they were going to purchase. Suddenly the Methodists, led by Captain Joe Mason an ex-State college man, butted in abruptly upon Captain Dale's fond hopes by swatting the Christians two games and copping the pennant. Fred Clerihue, was president of the 1909 church league.

For the season of 1910 J. K. Johnston was unanimously elected president and he placed the league upon a sound business basis by instituting a salaried umpire staff, an executive board of control and a permanent schedule committee, since which the Charleroi Church league has proven a model organization of its kind. The Episcopalians conducted the pennant by a one game margin after a grand race, the schedule of games being 14.

For 1911 Dr. Edwin McKay was

General Manager Long

Here Thursday

ARE ON INSPECTION TOUR

Will Stop Off Here Awhile to Confer With Local Business Men

To meet business men and citizens of Charleroi a party of P. R. R. railroad officials headed by General Manager S. C. Long of Philadelphia will spend 30 minutes here on Thursday morning. At the same time they will inspect work now being done on the new Charleroi station. The party is on an inspection tour of the Western Pennsylvania lines, and are at Connellsville today. In addition to Mr. Long in the party will be General Superintendent R. L. O'Donnell, of Pittsburg, Division Freight Agent S. L. Seymour, A. G. Mitchell, division superintendent and other local officials. They will arrive at 9:20 from Pittsburg and leave at 9:50.

It is a long time since an official as high as the General Manager, accompanied by the General Superintendent and Division Freight Agent has paid Charleroi even a short visit. When it was learned by E. F. Krahmer, the local agent that the party would go through Charleroi on their way over the division, he once got busy and arranged to have them make a 30 minute stop. During that time local business men and citizens will be introduced to them. The object of the visit will be largely for railroad matters. It is possible that a matter or two of interest to the town with which the railroad has to do will be taken up with the officials. Railroad officials have not been here since the new station was started and it will likely attract some attention.

BRIGADE TAKES HIKE INTO THE COUNTRY

Company E, Washington Avenue Boy's Brigade spent Tuesday night camping on the farm of I. V. Kinder, in Fallowfield township. The brigade marched to the place which is about a mile distant from town. A sham battle was fought as a special feature, the attacking side being commanded by Lieutenant Michiner and the defence being commanded by Capt. Charles Wallgren. The march home was made this morning.

MRS. LACOUNTE DIES AT HER HOME HERE

Mrs. Julia Lacounte, 45 years old, wife of Leonard Lacounte died at her home, 1200 Meadow avenue Tuesday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock from cancer with which she had been suffering for some time. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services at French church. Interment in the Charleroi cemetery. The husband and six sons and daughters survive. The deceased was a well known Belgium resident of Charleroi.

THREE GREAT ROCKS.

There are three great rocks ahead of the practical young man who has
his feet upon the ladder and is beginning to rise, says an exchange. First, drunkenness which, of course, is fatal.
There is no use—wasting any time on the young man who drinks liquor, no matter how exceptional his talent. Second speculation. The business of a speculator and that of a manufacturer or man of affairs
are not only distinct, but incompatible. The manufacturer should go forward steadily, meeting the market prices. When there are goods to sell, sell them; when supplies are needed, purchase them, without regard to the market price in either case.

We have never known a speculative manufacturer or business man who scored a permanent success; he is rich one day, bankrupt the next. The third rock is akin to speculation no doubt, in which men should help their friends, but there is a rule that will keep one safe; no man should place his name on the obligation of another if he has not sufficient to meet it without detriment to his business.

SMILE WHEN YOU LOSE.

Be as good a loser as you are a winner—a hard task to set a man, but not an impossible one, says the Omaha Bee. Many have met it. Those who have are those who win more than they lose, for nothing inspires success or victory like calmness in defeat or coolness under stress. It is true in business, in politics, in sports, in any sphere of competitive endeavor.

Not only that, but nothing is quite as disconcerting to one's opponent in one of life's contests as the ability to lose with a smile and well directed effort to regain the lost. Any man who has run a foot race or boxed or wrestled or played ball knows that.

But nobody has any time for the man who is forever lamenting his own loss or defeat. The world simply credits him with being what it terms a
"grouch," which means a poor loser,
and passes him by for a more agreeable man. Any one can be a good winner, but it takes a man to be a good loser.

The philosophy of life itself teaches that in all of its precepts some one has to lose. It may as well be you, perhaps, so far as the good of the world goes, as your neighbor. It makes for unselfishness to keep that in mind.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Some of those people who are complaining about heat now should remember that there are hotter places.

Did you ever notice that it was easier to get angry at the telephone operator than anybody else?

To be on the safe side do not attempt to aviate on Sunday. And to be still safer do not try to aviate on
any other day of the week.

What is life insurance? asks an exchange. Well that's a pretty hard question, but our opinion of it is that it's something you pay for and never get.

One writer says the man who has no enemies evidently has no friends.
How he draws his conclusion is a question, but enemies of the kind that blow up your house are worse than
not having any friends.

We saw a man the other day who said that he had had the opportunity
of a job in a penitentiary and wouldn't take it. Oh, the perversity of some human beings.

A lost ball team is about as hard to find as the proverbial needle in a haystack.

It's adding insult to injury when a man's own automobile runs over him.

Talk about your Dorothy Arnold
stunt. For real sensationalism E.
Frank Smith whose address erstwhile was Uniontown jail, has Dorothy beaten to a frazzle.

According to many marriageable
women who want nice unmarried men
to look long and earnestly on their charms, bachelors shouldn't reflect before they take the leap.

In a Connecticut town there is a law to prohibit barkeepers from treating. In most towns such a law is about as necessary as a law to keep tramps from working more than ten hours a day.

Old age is a natural condition, says
Dr. Hutchinson, with eminent wisdom and forethought. That settles one point and may serve to save the nation again.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A critic declares that twentieth century people tell their private affairs much more readily than used to be the custom.

If marriages turn out unfortunately the world learns it from the parties chiefly concerned, and what the old fashioned women would have called
the secrets of her inner life, not to be confessed even to herself, the new
woman tells boldly in order to surround her personality with a halo of interest, for it seems certain if you do not say you have troubles nobody will notice them.

The instinct of family loyalty is diminishing, that clannish sentiment which caused relatives to hide their internal dissension from others as carefully as they would badly infirmities; children criticize their parents and vice versa, brothers and sisters quarrel in the street; the black sheep is openly discussed by his relations.

No toleration is granted on the score of blood, and as all of us require as much toleration as we can get, it seems a pity so fruitful a means as supply is cut off. Yet if a man has a brother who is a blackguard, why should he not say so, just
so much as if he were a stranger.

There seems no rear reason, except that it doesn't sound nice and public opinion long ago decided that a family disgrace must be shared by all the members.

All About the Pig.

A little boy's first composition was about a pig. This is the way he wrote it: "Pigs are very queer animals.
The pig has its uses. Our dog don't like pigs. His name is Nero. Our teacher read a piece one day about a wicked king named Nero. I like good men. My papa is an awful good man.
Men are very useful. They have a great many uses which I can't stop to tell them all. This is all I can think of about the pig."

What's the Matter With Thomas?

There are some names which seem peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound. Francis,
George, Henry in both spellings,
Charles, William, Edward and James
all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Servia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are even now paid to Ferdinand in Bulgaria. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Haakens ascend the dais, but ever through all the centuries Thomas remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholases wear the imperial purple; God frey's lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis struts in ermine; Alexanders fare forth to conquest; Julius and Leo don the triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his name. Now tell me, you who are wise in the occult influence of names, what is the matter with Tom?—London

Washington as a Humorist.
While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to give offense to the French by a curt refusal, so he wrote an evasive card worthy of Lincoln—"C. Volney needs no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given in honor of the distinguished prisoner Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The king of France."
Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested
"His majesty," when Washington started them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!"
with a ready wit that made even Cor-wallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor H. Cheney, discussing the part played by gambling
in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Turot cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact that cards of a kind existed before the said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form of divination by such means. It seems,
in fact, that card playing for stakes is
a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property."

Meteors and the Atmosphere.

One of the most useful results arising from the study of sporadic meteors is the light thrown upon the question of the height of the atmosphere, since it is the friction of the air that sets them on fire, and if their elevation is known at the moment of their first appearance the probable height of the atmosphere can be calculated. On Aug.
11, 1909, a brilliant meteor happened
to impress its picture simultaneously on three photographic plates, at Tashkend, Iskander and Tschimgan, in Russian Turkestan. The distances between these places furnished base line from which the height could be deduced. The calculation shows that the meteor first appeared at a height of 69,450 miles above the earth and disappeared at fifty miles.

The Orange In Spain.

It is considered a very healthful
thing to eat an orange before breakfast. But who can eat an orange well? One must go to Spain to see that done. The senorita cuts off the rind with her silver knife, then, putting her fork into the peeled fruit, she detaches every morsel with her pearly teeth and continues to eat the orange without losing a drop of the juice and lays down the core with the fork still in it.

Unpalatable.

The Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon was fond of a joke, and his keen wit was,
moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the lions didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grit."—Youth's

"How effusively sweet that Mrs.
Blondy is to you, Jonesey," said Witherell. "What's up? Any tender little romance there?"

"No, indeed. Why, that woman hates me," said Jonesey.

"She doesn't show it," said Witherell.
"No, but she knows that I know how old she is. We were both born on the same day," said Jonesey, "and she's afraid I'll tell somebody."—Harper's Weekly.

The First Lighthouse.

The first lighthouse was erected at Pharos, near Alexandria, in Egypt.
It was finished in 285 B. C. Its height was 550 feet, and the light, which was kept burning on top at night, was visible forty-one miles away. This tower existed for some 1,600 years, when it was destroyed by an earthquake.

The Idea.

"Can a married man acquire happiness?"

"Sure! You don't think that bachelors are the only ones that die, do you?"—Toledo Blade.

Generally.

"Pa," said Freddy, "what is a social
scale?"

"Generally speaking," replied pa,
"it's a place where they weigh money."

There is an oblique way of reproof which takes off from the sharpness of
it.—Steele

The Landlubber.

They were enlightening the land-lubber as to maritime matters. He was becoming more and more crestfallen as their explanations progressed.

"Why, I always thought," he sadly sighed, "that the port side of a ship
was the one nearest port!"—Boston Herald.

Maddening.

"They really fear she will become insane. You see, she found a diary he kept before he married her."

"Oh, I see! And the awful revelations!"

"Revelations? No. It was all in cipher, and she couldn't read a word
of it."—London Tit-Bits.

Posting Mother.

"Did that young man kiss you last night?"

"Mother, do you suppose he came all the way up here just to hear me
sing?"

Women and Banking.
The cashier of a bank which has many women depositors, in speaking of these customers, said that the stock stories about overdrawn accounts and ignorance as to bank methods had become pointless. Whatever may have been the case before, women give banks no more trouble now than men. "The woman who insists on drawing money when her balance has been exhausted because there are still blank checks in her book has disappeared, and in her place we have a woman who wants interest on her money and who knows what 'call money' means," said the cashier. Referring to the 'old kind,' he added: "One day we did have a real case. A woman rushed in, said she had just figured up her account and found she was $500 short. Husband away—no other money—what could she do? She had brought jewels to leave as collateral security till he returned, and then we looked up the matter and found she had over $800 to her credit."—New York Tribune.

An Affront.
D'Auber—Your daughter paints in the Dutch school, does she not? Mrs. Newrich—Not much she don't! We pay $50 a quarter to give her private lessons at home. Dutch school indeed!—Philadelphia Record.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEVA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

Woe Is His.
First.—My wife is my boss. I shall not deny.

Second.—She maketh me to lie down behind the bed when swell company comes, and she leadeth me behind her up Main street.

Third.—She restoreth my pocketbook after she has spent all of its contents for stylish skirts and theater tickets, and she leadeth me up the main aisle at church for her new hat's sake.

Fourth.—Yea, though I walk more than half the night through dark rooms with a crying baby I will get no rest, for she is behind me; her broomstick and her hatpin they do everything else but comfort me.

Fifth.—She prepareth a cold snack for me, then maketh a bee line for an aid society supper. She anointeth my head with the rolling pin occasionally. My arms runneth over with the bundles before she is half done with her shopping.

Sixth.—Surely her dressmaker's and milliner's bills shall follow me all the days of her life, and I will dwell in the house of my wife forever.—Urich (Mo.) Herald.

Signaling at Sea.
The custom of signaling at sea by means of various colored flags is very ancient, and the method seems to have been brought to a degree of development bordering very closely on perfection. Many people have been astonished at the length of messages conveyed in a few moments and with the use of but half a dozen flags in various combinations, and when the extent of the language and the complexity of many necessary messages are considered the eighteen flags in the signal flag locker seem very inadequate. However, it must be remembered that the signal code utilizes a sort of shorthand, and many long messages, known to be of frequent occurrence, have been contracted to a single showing of flags in a given combination. The number of flags hoisted when a signal is made never exceeds four. With the eighteen flags of various colors, using four for each signal, no fewer than 78,642 combinations can be made.

An English Ghost.
A Westmoreland ghost used to haunt the shores of Windermere, where the Lowthers from time immemorial have been lords of the lake—the "crier of Claife." One tempestuous night in preformation times a cry was heard across the water by the ferryman at the Nab inn—"A boat!" The ferryman, against all his crooked persuasions at the inn, set out. After many hours he reached the Nab again, his boat dragged down by some unseen weight and himself with hair on end, a raving lunatic. Soon he died, and every stormy night his wraith was heard in agonized shrieks across from Claife till at last the resident monk of Furness was sought in his retreat on Lady Holm and persuaded to "lay" the unhappy spirit, which he duly did. Harriet Martineau and others tell the tale.—London Chronicle.

The Difficulty.
The First Worker—Manner born is blowed! D'joo mean ter say if me an' you come into a bit o' splosh we couldn't keep our ends up with these 'ere dooks and people?
His Doubting Friend—Oh, we should be orl right, but our missuses 'd give the game away, yer know.—London Sketch.

A Dance Without a Smile.
They have a singular kind of dance conducted on the greens of country villages in Russia. The dancers stand apart, a knot of young men here, a knot of maidens there, each sex by itself and silent as a crowd of mutes. A piper breaks into a tune. A youth pulls off his cap and challenges his girl with a wave and a bow. If the girl is willing she waves her handkerchief in token of assent. The youth advances, takes a corner of the handkerchief in his hand and leads his lassie round and round. No word is spoken, and no laugh is heard. Stiff with cords and rich with braids, the girl moves heavily by herself, going round and round and never allowing her partner to touch her hand. The piper goes droning on for hours in the same sad key and measure, and the prize of merit in this "circling" as the dance is called, is given by spectators to the lassie who in all that summer revelry has never spoken and never smiled.

Wanted More Converts.
Southey in his life of Wesley relates the following whimsical incident. He states that some of the opponents of these religionists in the excess of zeal against enthusiasm took up a whole wagon load of Methodists and carried them before a justice. When they were asked what these persons had done there was an awkward silence. At last one of the accusers said, "Why, they pretend to be better than other people, and besides, they pray from morning till night."

The magistrate asked if they had done nothing else.
"Yes, sir," an old man said. "An't please your worship, they have converted my wife. Till she went among them she had such a tongue, and now she is as quiet as a lamb."
"Carry them back; carry them back," the magistrate said, "and let them convert all the scolds in the town!"

Icebergs and Echoes.
Icebergs are always a source of worry to the transatlantic steamship skippers. It isn't pleasant to run along through a fog or a murky night and smash into one of these floating mountains of ice. The liner captains have a way of finding ice that at first strikes the landsman as curious. When it is suspected there are bergs in the neighborhood the whistle is kept going. If there is an echo the navigator slows down and keeps a sharp eye out, for echoes don't grow in the open ocean.

Disraeli's Gorgeous Costume.
When Disraeli was a young man he once went on a vacation trip to Corfu in this extraordinary costume: "A blood red shirt with silver buttons as big as shillings, an immense scarf for girdle, full of pistols and daggers; red cap, red slippers, broad blue striped jacket and trousers. His servant, engaged for the occasion, wore a Mameluke dress of crimson and gold, with a white turban thirty yards long and a saber glittering like a rainbow."—London Spectator.

Consumption
Anyone interested in the cure of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alternative.
Coughs, Stomach Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious troubles—Eckman's Alternative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:—"For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit.
At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling another physician, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results and was entirely cured.
During the past year I have gained 5 lbs. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative."
Signed Affidavit James W. Kanaly, Eckman's Alternative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Infections. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa. for additional evidence, or sale by all leading druggists and

WASHINGTON AVES FORFEIT CONTEST TO CHRISTIANS

After the Washington Avenue Presbyterians had forfeited to the Christians by non-appearance of a complete team Tuesday evening, they were defeated, with two players not their own on the field, by the score of 7 to 3. Kiefer twirled in the exhibition game for the Christians and didn't work himself very hard, but at that he only allowed seven hits. Stroud occupied the mound for the Washington Avenues until the final inning when Phil Hinton, erstwhile of the New Castle O. and P. team went in the box. Score:

BASEBALL BINGLES

Phil Hinton, who caught for New Castle the greater part of the season in the Ohio and Pennsylvania team, was on the field in a suit and was given a chance to play by the Washington Avenues, when a full team failed to show up. Hinton started on first then concluded he would do better pitching and went in the box. He showed rare form in both places.

Dunmire made a pretty running catch of Michiner's fly in the fifth.

Wilson continues to surprise by his batting.

Bert Mitchell smacked the ball properly. He got two beautiful hits.

The Christians have a mighty fine team, individual playing being considered. But they don't have the team work displayed by other organizations in the Church league.

It's the Methodists and the Episcopals tonight. Here's hoping the Episcopals show up in their best.

Kiefer is due for fast company if he watches himself. He was out a while this season with Lima and got some of the rusty spots worn off. Another try out might bring him success.

Miller didn't have a bit of work to do in left for the Christians.

Progress on Station.

Work is progressing well on the new Charleroi passenger station. The Charleroi Lumber Company is now placing the rafters for the roof, and practically all the brick work has been finished.

elected president and it is a matter of recent history how well the Church league has been piloted during the present season. This year the Lutherans won out with by far the largest margin of victories ever recorded here, in fact Joe Mason's team almost went through the season without a defeat, a 2 to 1 score being their only mishap. It is interesting to look back at the records for 1909 and 1910. They are:

California People Hold Annual Picnic

People held their annual picnic at Cascade Park, at New Castle Tuesday and special trains were run to that place. A large crowd attended. A good time was had at the park by the picnickers.

Arranging Games.

A meeting of a special committee from the church league executive board was held Tuesday evening in regard to games with a team from the Crafton-Ingram church league. It is probable that a series of games will be arranged to be played soon.

Held Dance.

A committee of young men of Monongahela, of which Dr. Taylor and Paul McCurdy are the heads, held the third dance of a series of subscription dances at Eldora Park on Tuesday evening and the affair was well attended.

Charleroi Man Who Helped
Tabulate Votes Appeared
Before Committee

Assemblyman William Feeney has returned from Indiana, where he appeared last week before the investigating board of the United Mine Workers appointed to look into the charge made by miners that ballots cast at the recent election of national officers had been stolen. Assemblyman Feeney was a teller and assisted in counting the votes. It was partly his suspicion of wrong doing that resulted in the investigation being ordered. The findings of the committee were that 15,000 ballots were stolen of those cast for the president, a large majority of which were for President John P. White.

The members of the special committee making the investigation were James F. Moran, of Des Moines, Ia., William Diamond of Saginaw, Mich., and George Baker of Kentucky. The hearing was brought at the request of members of 54 local unions of Illinois, whose votes were not counted according to the report of the election issued a short time ago and copies of the tally sheets, which have been circulated in mining circles show the number of votes in the districts, but give no reason why the votes of these districts were not tabulated. President White appointed the committee to make complete inquiry upon receiving the printed reports of the election.

The investigation showed that there were 350 local unions in the State of Illinois and that the votes of 78 of these had been counted. Of this number the votes of 24 local unions had been thrown out by the board of tellers and a reason given for the action. Among the reasons given are casting more votes than there were members in the union, failing to have the votes properly countersigned by the local officers and other similar reasons. No reason can be ascertained why the votes of the remaining 54 unions were not tabulated, it is said. Thomas L. Lewis, ex-national president was asked to appear and testify, but stated after he had received three telegrams, according to Mr. Feeney, that he was unable to appear.

The Lutherans, pennant winners in the Church league were tendered a delightful banquet Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heupel on Lincoln avenue. Baseball decorations were the order of the evening and each player was tastefully remembered, 15 being the number present. Speeches were made by all the players, Coach Joe Mason acting as toastmaster, following which singing and "fanning bees" were in order. The Lutheran boys claim that they had to win the pennant when backed by such loyal friends as Mr. and Mrs. Heupel.

Jonas M. Gee Resigns and Harry W. Scott is Appointed in His Stead at Petition
of Citizens

Upon petition of Burgess Jonas M. Gee of North Charleroi and the council of the municipality the resignation of Mr. Gee as Burgess was accepted Tuesday by the court.

According to the petition filed, Burgess Gee's reason for wishing to resign his office that he had been unable to give the office the attention it demands since injured in an accident. Burgess Gee was struck by a Rockwell, Herman Nebeling and John street car in Monongahela some months ago, and was so seriously injured that for a time his life was despaired of. In the same paper was the request of the council and other citizens of North Charleroi that Harry W. Scott be appointed to serve out the remaining time of Burgess Gee. The petition are Samuel Gaskill, David Woodward, Tom P. Sloan, Jasper Rockwell, Herman Nebeling and John I. Cope.

COURSE COMMITTEE HOLDS A MEETING

Permanent Organization Effected for the Coming Season

At a meeting of the guarantors of the Citizen's Entertainment Course Tuesday evening a permanent organization was effected for the season by the election of Dr. T. M. Faddis president, J. M. Hill secretary and Stewart McKean treasurer. A report was made that there was a surplus of $160 in the treasury from last year's entertainment course with which to start this season. The president was instructed to name an executive committee from the guarantors to choose a course, and a meeting will be held next week some time.

County Commissioners in
to Get Nominations

Formal notice has been issued by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the counties of the State notifying them of the fact that thirty-five judges of commonpleas and orphans' courts are to be elected at the November election and that twenty-one associate judges are also to be chosen in the counties which retain such officers.

The State authorities have also sent notices to the commissioners of each county that the lists of nominations to be made at the primaries in September must be filed by today. The county chairmen in each county are required to enter such lists.

In every county of the state the lists will be on record and then petitions to be candidates may be filed. Numerous petitions are in circulation in this and other counties and the interest in the primaries at which the largest tickets in years are to be nominated is running high, although the primary will not take place until September 30.

The time for filing petitions to be candidate for nomination for judge expires on September 2, such petitions being filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The time for filing petitions to be candidate for nomination on county or municipal tickets will expire on September 9, the petitions to be filled with commissioners of the county in which candidate desires to run.

Green County Men Purchase Coal Land

S. K. Strosnider, C. K. Spragg and W. H. Spragg all of Waynesburg have closed a deal for the sale of 150 acres of coal land located near Manington, W. Va. The consideration of the deal was $50,000. The property was sold to M. A. Jolliffe, of Fairmont, W. Va. The coal was originally known as the William Wallace tract. Messrs. Strosnider, Spragg and Spragg purchased the coal five years ago at $180 per acre.

Grants, Wickerhams and Sampsons to Convene
at Eldora

The fourth annual reunion of the Grant-Sampson and Wickerham families, will be held the third week of August at Eldora park. Arrangements for the affair are now under headway and the reunion this year promises to be the best ever. Last year the reunion was attended by hundreds of members of the clans from all communities and this year a general invitation has been issued. The Grant-Sampson-Wickerham families, which are closely connected are among the oldest and best known in the county of Washington. The families for the last four years have been holding these annual picnics which are always well attended and which are enjoyable.

Dr. T. E. Cramblett, president of Bethany College, and Mrs. Grace Evelyn Williams of Kankakee, Ill., were married in Bloomington, Ill., at noon Tuesday in the home of the bride's mother. The bride is a talented musician and for the last two years has been a successful singing evangelist, besides delivering temperance and missionary addresses. She was educated at Eureka College, in Illinois. Dr. and Mrs. Cramblett have gone for a lake trip and will be at home at The Heights, Bethany, after August 15. Dr. Cramblett is well known in Charleroi where he has preached.

The annual outing of Charleroi Lodge No. 4392, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows was held at Rock Point park Tuesday and there was a crowd of about 600 persons from all along the valley between Brownsville and Pittsburg present. The day was enjoyed at the park in various ways the various amusements being taxed to their capacity. The skating rink was a feature. The return trip was made about 12:30.

Church Baseball Organization Has Proved
Good Venture

One of the most successful and best conducted organizations to provide wholesome amusement and sport, the Charleroi Church Baseball league, is just closing its 1911 season, this being the last week. The church league has run three seasons and has been a far greater success in every way than organized ball ever was here before.

The league was organized in 1909 at a meeting at the First Presbyterian church, representatives being present from six churches, First Presbyterians, Washington Avenue Presbyterians, Lutheran, Methodist, Christian and Episcopal. The Christian team got the jump on all the others by having their lineup ready and Captain Dale Jolliffe's team won seven straight games. They were telling folks what sort of a pennant they were going to purchase. Suddenly the Methodists, led by Captain Joe Mason an ex-State college man, butted in abruptly upon Captain Dale's fond hopes by swatting the Christians two games and copping the pennant. Fred Clerihue, was president of the 1909 church league.

For the season of 1910 J. K. Johnston was unanimously elected president and he placed the league upon a sound business basis by instituting a salaried umpire staff, an executive board of control and a permanent schedule committee, since which the Charleroi Church league has proven a model organization of its kind. The Episcopalians conducted by Manager "Foxy" McCloskey won the pennant by a one game margin after a grand race, the schedule of games being 14.

Will Stop Off Here Await
to Confer With Local Business Men

To meet business men and citizens of Charleroi a party of P. R. R. railroad officials headed by General Manager S. C. Long of Philadelphia will spend 30 minutes here on Thursday morning. At the same time they will inspect work now being done on the new Charleroi station. The party is on an inspection tour of the Western Pennsylvania lines, and are at Connellsville today. In addition to Mr. Long in the party will be General Superintendent R. L. O'Donnell, of Pittsburg, Division Freight Agent S. L. Seymour, A. G. Mitchell, division superintendent and other local officials. They will arrive at 9:20 from Pittsburg and leave at 9:50.

It is a long time since an official as high as the General Manager, accompanied by the General Superintendent and Division Freight Agent has paid Charleroi even a short visit. When it was learned by E. F. Krahmer, the local agent that the party would go through Charleroi on their way over the division, he at once got busy and arranged to have them make a 30 minute stop. During that time local business men and citizens will be introduced to them. The object of the visit will be largely for railroad matters. It is possible that a matter or two of interest to the town with which the railroad has to do will be taken up with the officials. Railroad officials have not been here since the new station was started and it will likely attract some attention.

Company E, Washington Avenue Boy's Brigade spent Tuesday night camping on the farm of I. V. Kinder, in Fallowfield township. The brigade marched to the place which is about a mile distant from town. A sham battle was fought as a special feature, the attacking side being commanded by Lieutenant Michiner and the defence being commanded by Capt. Charles Wallgren. The march home was made this morning.

MRS. LACOUNTE DIES AT HER HOME HERE

Mrs. Julia Lacounte, 45 years old, wife of Leonard Lacounte died at her home, 1200 Meadow avenue Tuesday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock from cancer with which she had been suffering for some time. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services at French church. Interment in the Charleroi cemetery. The husband and six sons and daughters survive. The deceased was a well known Belgium resident of Charleroi.

THREE GREAT ROCKS.

There are three great rocks ahead
of the practical young man who has
his feet upon the ladder and is beginning to rise, says an exchange. First, drunkenness which, of course, is fatal. There is no use—wasting any time on the young man who drinks
liquor, no matter how exceptional his talent. Second speculation. The business of a speculator and that of
a manufacturer or man of affairs
are not only distinct, but incompatible. The manufacturer should go forward steadily, meeting the market prices. When there are goods to sell, sell them; when supplies are
needed, purchase them, without regard to the market price in either case.

We have never known a speculative manufacturer or business man who
scored a permanent success; he is rich one day, bankrupt the next. The third rock is akin to speculation no
doubt, in which men should help
their friends, but there is a rule that
will keep one safe; no man should
place his name on the obligation of
another if he has not sufficient to meet it without detriment to his business.

SMILE WHEN YOU LOSE.

winner—a hard task to set a man, but
not an impossible one, says the Omaha Bee. Many have met it. Those who have are those who win more
than they lose, for nothing inspires
success or victory like calmness in defeat or coolness under stress. It is true in business, in politics, in sports, in any sphere of competitive
endeavor.

Not only that, but nothing is quite
as disconcerting to one's opponent in
one of life's contests as the ability
to lose with a smile and well directed effort to regain the lost. Any man who has run a foot race or boxed or wrestled or played ball knows
that.

But nobody has any time for the
man who is forever lamenting his own loss. The world simply credits him with being what it terms a
"grouch," which means a poor loser,
and passes him by for a more agree-

able man. Any one can be a good
winner, but it takes a man to be a good loser.

The philosophy of life itself teaches
that in all of its precepts some one has to lose. It may as well be you,
perhaps, so far as the good of the
world goes, as your neighbor. It makes for selfishness to keep that in mind.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Some of those people who are complaining about heat now should remember that there are hotter places.

Did you ever notice that it was
easier to get angry at the telephone operator than anybody else?

To be on the safe side do not attempt to aviate on Sunday. And to be still safer do not try to aviate on
any other day of the week.

What is life insurance? asks an exchange. Well that's a pretty hard question, but our opinion of it is that it's something you pay for and never get.

One writer says the man who has
no enemies evidently has no friends.
How he draws his conclusion is a
question, but enemies of the kind that
blow up your house are worse than
not having any friends.

We saw a man the other day who
of a job in a penitentiary and
wouldn't take it. Oh, the perversity
of some human beings.

A lost ball team is about as hard to find as the proverbial needle in a haystack.

It's adding insult to injury when
a man's own automobile runs over
him.

Talk about your Dorothy Arnold
stunt. For real sensationalism E.
Frank Smith whose address erst-
while was Uniontown jail, has Dorothy beaten to a frazzle.

According to many marriageable
women who want nice unmarried men
to look long and earnestly on their
charms, bachelors shouldn't reflect
before they take the leap.

In a Connecticut town there is a
law to prohibit barkeepers from treat-
ing. In most towns such a law is about as necessary as a law to keep
tramps from working more than ten
hours a day.

Old age is a natural condition, says
Dr. Hutchinson, with eminent wisdom
and forethought. That settles one point and may serve to save the nation again.

A critic declares that twentieth
century people tell their private affairs much more readily than used to be the custom.

If marriages turn out unfortunately the world learns it from the parties chiefly concerned, and what the old fashioned women would have called
the secrets of her inner life, not to
be confessed even to herself, the new
woman tells boldly in order to surround her personality with a halo of
interest, for it seems certain if you
do not say you have troubles nobody
will notice them.

The instinct of family loyalty is
diminishing, that clannish sentiment
which caused relatives to hide their
internal dissension from others as
carefully as they would badly infirmities; children criticise their parents and vice versa, brothers and sisters quarrel in the street; the black sheep is openly discussed by his relations.

No toleration is granted on the score of blood, and as all of us require as much toleration as we can
get, it seems a pity so fruitful a means of supply is cut off. Yet if a man has a brother who is a black-
guard, why should he not say so, just
so much as if he were a stranger.

There seems no real reason, except that it doesn't sound nice and
public opinion long ago decided that
a family disgrace must be shared by all the members.

All About the Pig.

A little boy's first composition was
about a pig. This is the way he wrote it: "Pigs are very queer animals.
The pig has its uses. Our dog don't like pigs. His name is Nero. Our teacher read a piece one day about a wicked king named Nero. I like good
men. My papa is an awful good man and he is very useful. They have a great many uses which I can't stop to tell them all. This is all I can think
of about the pig."

What's the Matter With Thomas?

There are some names which seem
peculiarly suited to royalty; Louis, for instance, has a kingly sound, Francis,
George, Henry in both spellings,
Charles, William, Edward and James
all have served their turn. Johns there have been, and Stephens. I remember
a Robert in Sicily and a Peter in Russia and Serbia. Frederick has often worn the crown, and royal honors are often paid to Frederick in our garb. But was there ever, anywhere, a king named Thomas? Oscars and even Bacons ascended the dais, but
ever through all the centuries Thomas
remains the subject, sometimes struggling up to a bishopric or an earldom, but never attaining the crown. Nicholas wear the imperial purple; God-freys lord it over Jerusalem; Alexis in ermine; Alexanders fare forth
to conquest; Julius and Leo don the
triple crown, but Thomas, poor plebeian Thomas, has never a crown to his
name. Now tell me, you who are wise
in the occult influence of names, what
is the matter with Tom?—London Idler.

Washington as a Humorist.

While president Washington's humor seemed to find expression in the diplomacy of self protection. A French revolutionist came to him for a general
testimonial, which Washington did not care to grant, yet he did not wish to
give offense to the French by a curt
refusal, so he wrote an evasive card reading: "I have no opinion to offer, no recommendation from G. Washington."

After Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown Washington treated him with high consideration. At a dinner given
in honor of the distinguished prisoner
Rochambeau proposed "The United States" as his toast; Washington responded with "The King of France";
Cornwallis, perforce, faintly suggested
"His majesty," when Washington
started them all by announcing, "The king of England—may he stay there!"
with a ready wit that made even Cor-
wallis laugh.—Century.

Cards and Card Playing.

In a paper in the Journal of the Royal Society of Arts Professor B. C. Cener, discussing the part played by gambling
in magic, observes: "The use of cards is said to be derived from the Turkish cards, which were originally employed for occult purposes. The legend which ascribes the invention of cards to the purpose of amusing a mad king does not seem at all a sufficient explanation, and there is in addition the fact
that cards of a kind existed before the
said king. In further support of this idea the well known practice of telling
fortunes by cards may probably be regarded as a survival of a regular form
of divination by such means. It seems,
in fact, that card playing for stakes is
a mere development of a ceremony in which individuals consulting the oracle decided to abide by its pronouncements as to the holding of disputed property."

Meteors and the Atmosphere.

One of the most useful results arising from the study of sporadic meteors
is the light thrown upon the question
of the height of the atmosphere, since
it is the friction of the air that sets
known at the moment of their first appearance the probable height of the atmosphere can be calculated. On Aug.
11, 1909, a brilliant meteor happened
to impress its picture simultaneously on three photographic plates, at Taskeed, Iskander and Tschingan, in Russian Turkestan. The distances between these places furnished base lines
from which the height could be deduced. The calculation shows that the meteor first appeared at a height of 69.45 miles above the earth and disappeared at fifty miles.

The Orange in Spain.

It is considered a very healthful
thing to eat an orange before breakfast. But who can eat an orange well? One must go to Spain to see that done. The senorita cuts off the
rind with her silver knife, then, putting her fork into the peeled fruit, she
detaches every morsel with her pearly
teeth and continues to eat the orange
without losing a drop of the juice and
lays down the core with the fork still
in it.

Unpalatable.

The Rev. Charles E. Spurgeon was
fond of a joke, and his keen wit was,
moreover, based on sterling common sense. One day he remarked to one of his sons:

"Can you tell me the reason why the hells didn't eat Daniel?"

"No, sir. Why was it?"

"Because the most of him was backbone and the rest was grill!"—Youth's

The young woman had spent a busy

She had browbeaten fourteen sales people, bullyragged a floorwalker, argued victoriously with a milliner, laid down the law to a modiste, nip-

The First Lighthouse.

The first lighthouse was erected at Pharos, near Alexandria, in Egypt.
It was finished in 283 B. C. Its height was 350 feet, and the light, which was
kept burning on top at night, was visible forty-one miles away. This tower existed for some 1,600 years, when it was destroyed by an earthquake.

The Idea.

"Can a married man acquire happiness?"

"Sure! You don't think that bachelors are the only ones that die, do
you?"—Toledo Blade.

Generally.

"Pa," said Freddy, "what is a social
scale?"

"Generally speaking," replied pa,
"it's a place where they weigh money."

There is an oblique way of reproof
which takes off from the sharpness of
it.—Steele.

The Landlubber.

They were enlightening the land-lubber as to maritime matters. He was becoming more and more crest-
fallen as their explanations progressed.

"Why, I always thought," he sadly
sighed, "that the port side of a ship
was the one nearest port!"—Boston Herald.

Maddening.

"They really fear she will become insane. You see, she found a diary
he kept before he married her."

"Oh, I see! And the awful revelations?"

"Revelations? No. It was all in cipher, and she couldn't read a word
of it."—London Tit-Bits.

Posting Mother.

"Did that young man kiss you last
night?"

"Mother, do you suppose he came all
the way up here just to hear me
sing?"

Women and Banking.
The cashier of a bank which has many women depositors, in speaking of these customers, said that the stock stories about overdrawn accounts and ignorance as to bank methods had become pointless. Whatever may have been the case before, women give banks no more trouble now than men. "The woman who insists on drawing money when her balance has been exhausted because there are still checks in her book has disappeared, and in her place we have a woman who wants interest on her money and who knows what 'call money' means," said the cashier. Referring to the 'old kind,' he added: "One day we did have a real case. A woman rushed in, said she had just figured up her account and found she was $500 short. Husband away—no other money—what could she do? She had brought jewels to leave as collateral security till he returned, and then we looked up the matter and found she had over $500 to her credit."—New York Tribune.

An Affront.
D'Auber—Your daughter paints in the Dutch school, does she not? Mrs. Newrich—Not much she don't! We pay $50 a quarter to give her private lessons at home. Dutch school indeed!—Philadelphia Record.

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramp and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone more in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

—Mrs. DEBRA BERTHE Sikeston, Mo.
The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

Who is His.
First—My wife is my boss. I shall not deny.
Second—She maketh me to lie down behind the bed when swell company comes, and she leadeth me behind her up Main street.
Third—She restoreth my pocketbook after she has spent all of its contents for stylish skirts and theater tickets, and she leadeth me up the main aisle at church for her own hat's sake.
Fourth—Yea, though I walk more than half the night through dark rooms with a crying baby I will get no rest, for she is behind me; her broomstick and her hatpin they do everything else but comfort me.
Fifth—She prepareth a cold snack for me, then maketh a bee line for an aid society supper. She acquainteth my head with the rolling pin occasionally. My arms runneth over with the bundles before she is half done with her shopping.
Sixth—Surely her dressmaker's and milliner's bills shall follow me all the days of her life, and I will dwell in the house of my wife forever.—Ulrich (Mo.) Herald.

Signaling at Sea.
The custom of signaling at sea by means of various colored flags is very ancient, and the method seems to have been brought to a degree of development bordering very closely on perfection. Many people have been astonished at the length of messages conveyed in a few moments and with the use of but half a dozen flags in various combinations, and when the extent of the language and the complexity of many necessary messages are considered the eighteen flags in the signal flag locker seem very inadequate. However, it must be remembered that the signal code utilizes a sort of shorthand, and many combinations, known to be of frequent occurrence, have been contracted to a single showing of flags in a given combination. The number of flags hoisted when a signal is made never exceeds four. With the eighteen flags of various colors, using four for each signal, no fewer than 73,642 combinations can be made.

An English Ghost.
A Westmoreland ghost used to haunt the shores of Windermere, where the Lowthers from time immemorial have been lords of the lake—the 'crier of Claife.' One tempestuous night in pre-reformation times a cry was heard across the water by the ferryman at the Nab Inn—"A boat!" The ferryman, against all his croaker's persuasions at the inn, set out. After many hours he reached the Nab again, his boat dragged down by some unseen weight and himself with hair on end, a raving lunatic. Soon he died, and every stormy night his wraith was heard in agonized shrieks across from Claife till at last the resident monk of Furness was sought in his retreat on Lady Holm and persuaded to 'lay' the unhappy spirit, which he duly did. Harriet Martineau and others tell the tale.—London Chronicle.

The Difficulty.
The First Worker—Manner born he blowed! D'you mean ter say if me an' you come into a bit o' splosh we couldn't keep our ends up with these 'ere docks and people?
His Doubting Friend—Oh, we should be ori' right, but our missuses 'd give the game away, yer know.—London Sketch.

A Dance Without a Smile.
They have a singular kind of dance conducted on the greens of country villages in Russia. The dancers stand apart, a knot of young men here, a knot of maidens there, each sex by itself and silent as a crowd of mutes. A piper breaks into a tune. A youth pulls off his cap and challenges his girl with a wave and a bow. If the girl is willing she waves her handkerchief in token of assent. The youth advances, takes a corner of the handkerchief in his hand and leads his lassie round and round. No word is spoken, and no laugh is heard. Stiff with cords and rich with braids, the girl moves heavily by herself, going round and round and never allowing her partner to touch her hand. The pipe goes droning on for hours in the same sad key and measure, and the prize of merit in this "circling," as the dance is called, is given by spectators to the lassie who in all that summer revelry has never spoken and never smiled.

Wanted More Converts.
Southey in his life of Wesley relates the following whimsical incident. He states that some of the opponents of these religionists in the excess of zeal against enthusiasm took up a whole wagon load of Methodists and carried them before a justice. When they were asked what these persons had done there was an awkward silence. At last one of the accusers said: "Why, they pretend to be better than other people, and besides, they pray from morning till night."
The magistrate asked if they had done nothing else.

"Yes, sir," an old man said. "An't please your worship, they have converted my wife. Till she went among them she had such a tongue, and now she is as quiet as a lamb."
"Carry them back; carry 'em back," the magistrate said, "and let them convert all the scolds in the town!"

Icebergs and Echoes.
Icebergs are always a source of worry to the transatlantic steamship skippers. It isn't pleasant to run along through a fog or a murky night and smash into one of these floating mountains of ice. The liner captains have a way of finding ice that at first strikes the landsman as curious. When it is suspected there are bergs in the neighborhood the whistle is kept going. If there is an echo the navigator slows down and keeps a sharp eye out for echoes don't grow in the open ocean.

Disraeli's Gorgeous Costume.
When Disraeli was a young man he once went on a vacation trip to Corfu in this extraordinary costume: "A blood red shirt with silver buttons as big as shillings, an immense scarf for girdle, full of pistols and daggers; red cap, red slippers, broad blue striped jacket and trousers. His servant, engaged for the occasion, wore a Mameluke dress of crimson and gold, with a white turban thirty yards long and a saber glittering like a rainbow."—London Spectator.

After the Washington Avenue Presbyterians had forfeited to the Christians by non-appearance of a complete team Tuesday evening, they were defeated, with two players not their own on the field, by the score of 7 to 3. Kiefer twirled in the exhibition game for the Christians and didn't work himself very hard, but at that he only allowed seven hits. Stroud occupied the mound for the Washington Avenues until the final inning when Phil Hinton, erstwhile of the New Castle O. and P. team went in the box. Score:

BASEBALL BINGLES

Phil Hinton, who caught for New Castle the greater part of the season in the Ohio and Pennsylvania team, was on the field in a suit and was given a chance to play by the Washington Avenues, when a full team failed to show up. Hinton started on first then concluded he would do better pitching and went in the box. He showed rare form in both places.

Dunmire made a pretty running catch of Michner's fly in the fifth.

Wilson continues to surprise by his batting.

Bert Mitchell smacked the ball properly. He got two beautiful hits.

The Christians are a mighty fine team, individual playing being considered. But they don't have the team work displayed by other organizations in the Church league.

It's the Methodists and the Episcopalians tonight. Here's hoping the Episcopalians show up in their best.

Kiefer is due for fast company if he watches himself. He was out a while this season with Lima and got some of the rusty spots worn off. Another try out might bring him success.

Miller didn't have a bit of work to do in left for the Christians.

Progress On Station.

Work is progressing well on the new Charleroi passenger station. The Charleroi Lumber Company is now placing the rafters for the roof, and practically all the brick work has been finished.

elected president and it is a matter of recent history how well the Church league has been piloted during the present season. This year the Lutherans won out with by far the largest margin of victories ever recorded here, in fact Joe Mason's team almost went through the season without a defeat, a 2 to 1 score being their only mishap. It is interesting to look back at the records for 1909 and 1910. They are:

California People

Hold Annual Picnic

People held their annual picnic at Cascade Park, at New Castle Tuesday and spectators were run to that place. A good crowd attended. A good time was had at the park by the picnicers.

Arranging Games.

A meeting of a special committee from the church league executive board was held Tuesday evening in regard to games with a team from the Crafton-Ingram church league. It is probable that a series of games will be arranged to be played soon.

Held Dance.

A committee of young men of Monongahela, of which Dr. Taylor and Paul McCurdy are the heads, held the third dance of a series of subscription dances at Eldora Park on Tuesday evening and the affair was well attended.
